

LIVES LOST THROUGH CARELESSNESS

The fire insurance companies through a committee on fire prevention, are sending out bulletins intended as words of caution to those who use highly inflammable fluids. Their warning, as to the danger of carelessly handling gasoline, presents these facts:

A pint of gasoline left open in a basin in a room at a normal or average temperature will entirely evaporate in twenty-four hours. The gasoline vapor is heavier than the air and sinks immediately to the floor and, unless it is disturbed by active air currents, will remain in the room for many hours. One pint of gasoline will make two hundred cubic feet of explosive mixture. Without becoming too scientific, it may be said that this gasoline vapor IS SEVEN TIMES MORE POWERFUL THAN GUNPOWDER.

Every gasoline explosion and fire that occurs in the home is due to ignorance and carelessness on the part of the user. Gloves must be cleaned, fabrics must be dipped in gasoline or alcohol and their use will continue. For that reason, it is vitally important that the user should have all the information possible about the danger

Gasoline should be used in open air wherever possible but, if it must be used in the house, all the windows should be opened wide and a sufficient draft created to drive all the vapor from the room. IT IS ALMOST CRIMINAL TO USE GASOLINE IN THE KITCHEN OR OTHER ROOMS WHERE IT IS EXPOSED TO FIRE. The vapor has been known to jump thirty feet from a tank in the open air and explode with such violence as to wreck the tank car and burn all the buildings in the immediate neighborhood

It is not necessary to touch a match to it. A SPARK FROM THE HEEL OF A SHOE STRIKING A TACK OR NAIL WILL EXPLODE THE VAPOR. A lighted gas jet will produce the same result. Keep gasoline away from every kind of flame even if that flame is enclosed, as in a stove or furnace.

Articles dipped, washed or soaked in gasoline give off an explosive vapor for hours after. They should be thoroughly aired before being used and always kept away from exposed flame. A woman cleansed her gloves with gasoline. An hour later she put them on to go out. Before leaving the house she stopped to light the gas. The gloves caught fire and severely burned her hands and arms. This occurred in Rochester, New York.

Every day the dispatches carry news of people fatally burned and property destroyed by gasoline or coal oil, and almost invariably to carelessness in the disregard of the ordinary rules of safety are traceable these disasters.

WHAT A FORMER OGDENITE SAID.

There is so much pleasure expressed by the "Standpat" press over the illness of Senator La Follette that it is evident the Standpatters would rejoice if the Wisconsin senator were assassinated, such is the spirit of the crusade against La Follette and such is the fear of his masterful mind and wonderful energy in a righteous

Had La Follette been the weak proclaimer of purity in politics that his enemies have declared him to be, his campaign would have held the attention of but few and the entire "Standpat" press could have devoted itself to the maligning of Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Cummins or any other earnest friend of the common people whose prominence might have promised an interference with their fixed program of refilling the White House chair with 300 pounds of easily moulded putty.

La Follette has made his impress on American politics. His earnest pleading for an aroused public conscience and his disclosures of a mercenary group of high financiers who play with the welfare of the people as a cat trifles with the life of a mouse and who tend to corrupt our public men and make a mockery of govnment, eventually must find expression in our laws honest enforcement.

We were talking with a former Ogdenite, now a resident of Salt Lake, who at one time was a Cleveland Democrat and later became a Republican. He is a man of prominence in the affairs of the capital. He said he was in favor of going to the extreme in uprooting the evil of the powerful combinations which are destroying competition and making impossible an independent livelihood for any but a chosen few. He said he was for La Follette. We remarked that he had experienced an awakening, as he had been a conservative, always pointing out the danger of upsetting business in displeasing the "big interests."

"Yes, I once was as blind as a bat," he said. "All I could see was the side of the very rich. I was afraid that if the powerful were angered, they would crush us, and I held to that view until a friend one day twitted me as to my lack of courage and my nearsightedness, and for the first time I began to realize how cowardly was my attitude of trembling every time Rockefeller sneezed in resentment or Morgan coughed in displeasure, and I resolved to be a militant American, demanding the full rights of a citizen, conceding the same rights to others and exacting of the most powerful the British-American Tobacco comfinancial interests in this country the same honesty of conduct that I yielded. Since then I have leaned toward the Progressives, in fact I am heartily in favor of everything advocated by La Fol-

This is the story of thousands of citizens of this great republic. They have ceased to yield to the pleadings of the Standpatters that to curb the trusts will hurt business; they are no longer placating the very rich; they are at last asserting their manhood, and putting on the panoply of war, resolved to fight for equality; they are joining the forces of the Progressives; they are for Bob La Follette, and if the intrepid Wisconsin senator, through ill health, can lead no longer, then they are for Roosevelt or any other trustworthy advocate of good government who is equal to the physical strain of a mighty crusade for right.

RAISING THIRD TERM BUGABOO.

The tremendous personal popularity of Theodore Roosevelt and the spontaneous growth of the movement to return him to the White House has caused those who fear his candidacy to raise the thirdterm bugaboo, says the Los Angeles Tribone. Elect Roosevelt to be president, is their cry, and you establish Caesarism and destroy

Mr. Roosevelt's enemies are numerous and active. He has had and exercised a happy faculty for making enemies precisely of the sort a patriot should most desire to have, but for every enemy he has reared up many friends who would gladly make his cause their own as now they seek to have him again make their cause his. Look at boss-ridden Pennsylvania, bound by laws and hampered by practices that make it almost impossible for its people to express their will in legislature or convention. In a poll that embraced onethird of the voters of Allegheny county, Roosevelt leads Taft by more than seven to one. That La Follette under such conditions polled only about as many votes as Taft was but natural, but the bulk of the Progressive strength that went to Roosevelt would go to the Wisconsin man were he alone opposed to the president.

The country over the men and women who make up the bone and sinew of the Republican party are deeply desirous of Roosevelt's nomination. The universality of the desire, its freedom from sectional limitations, is one of its remarkable features. Its genuineness and fervid spontaneity are not to be questioned. Facing a popular movement that may sweep over all the bosses and obliterate all their plots and plans and schemes, the enemies of that movement are reduced to invoke against it the traditional sentiment against

Four years ago Mr. Jonathan Bourne, who was the head and front of a crusade for Mr. Roosevelt's renomination, met the antithird-term sentiment with his ingenious presentation of the fact that another term for Mr. Roosevelt would be but his second elective term. Mr. Roosevelt waved that plea aside as a subterfuge. He declared that it was a mere quibble to assert that he had not had two terms. He adhered to the declaration he made on the night of the election in 1904; "The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination." Moved by his allegiance to that declaration, Mr. Roosevelt refused to be a party to the campaign to renominate him, declared the second elective term theory to be disingenuous and thrust aside a nomination he undoubtedly could have secured. That declaration is now advanced as a reason why Mr. Roosevelt should refuse a nomination even were it offered.

The sentiment against a third term took its root in a fear that some ambitious president might seek to perpetuate himself in power and use the patronage of his office to that end. The very reason for the sentiment disappears when a president surrenders his office and resumes his place for a period in the ranks. The anti-third-term sentiment was directed against a third consecutive term. When Mr. Roosevelt declared: "Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination," it requires no strained construction of the declaration to restrict the refusal to the nomination for the term immediately succeeding that upon which he was then soon to enter. The declaration was in the form of a voluntary pledge to the people that their sentiment against a third consecutive term would be respected from conviction of its wisdom and that at the conclusion of his second term, Mr. Roosevelt would retire from office. He kept his pledge and did retire, proving his good faith by refusing to seek the renomination he had but to ask for to obtain. He laid down all the power and patronage of his place and became again a private citizen. By that transformation of the president into a citizen the third-term bugaboo was deprived of all its strength to terrify, for by that act of renunciation all the valid objections created against a third term by all considerations of sound public policy were overcome and dissipated.

Neither in the sentiment that rightly antagonizes a third consecutive term nor in Mr. Roosevelt's declarations, that undoubtpany. He added that all the compan-ies formed out of the American Tobacco company and the other companies which were disintegraded under the circuit were now fully organized and embarked on their separate in explanation of the decision of the American Tobacco company today to declare a dividend on its common stock, Mr. Duke sald he had advised that in view of the large payments in cash which the company had recently been compelled to make in the retirement of its bonds, and for other surposes required by the court's decree, it would be wise to pay no dividend on its common stock at present and that the directors had concurred in this opinion.

CAUSE FOR ALARM Loss of Appetite or Distress After

Eating a Symptom That Should Not Be Disregarded. Appetite is just a natural desire for tress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health. It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through dis-regard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Ogden who suffer from any stomach derangement, inditestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspensia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly be-lleve them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengththe digestive organs, to regulate en the digestive organicate all fect nutrition, and eradicate all un-healthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store-The Rexall Store. The T. H. Carr Drug Co.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.-Carnegie hall was filled tonight by an audience as-sembled to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens. The meeting was presided over by Hamilton Wright Mable, and was addressed by many speakers distinguished in literary cir-

William Watson, the English poet read a poem written for the occasion which compared Dickens to a fighter who was "perhaps the greatest The concluding

And still across the years His soul goes forth to battle, and in

Of what so 'er is false, or cruel, or He hurls his guage and leaps among the spears, Being armed with pity and love, and scorn divine immortal laughter and

A feature of the celebration was the reading of eulogistic letters, tele-grams and calbegrams from well known authors, publishers and other prominent persons both in this coun try and in Europe. Such were re-ceived from James Bryce, the British ambassador; Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador; President Hadley of Yale university: Maurice Maeter link, Ellen Terry, Winston Churchill (the American), Senator Lodge and George Brandes, the French novellst. Gibert K. Chesterson tonight cabled:
"Anology and congratulations.
Dickens was popular yet independent. He may yet survive the American con-stitution he has the British."

Letters also were read from Henry Dickens and Kate Perugini, the only surviving children of the author, regretting their inability to cross the Atlantic to attend the celebration

Among those given a seat of honor at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs George Lawrence, the sole kindred of the Dickens family in America. Mr. Lawrence's mether was a cousin of Charles Dickens.

CONSPIRACY CASE ARRESTS COMING

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 7. -Capiases for the simultaneous arrest of all the men named in the 22 indictments returned by the federal grand jury in the dynamite conspiracy cases, with certified copies of the indictments, were completed today in the expectation that the arrests might be affected within five dayspossibly on Saturday, but more probably next Monday,

Although the men, most of them abor union officials, and agents, are scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, arrangements for the arrests have been made so that they will be arrested and given an opportunity to furnish bond on the day and as near as possible within a few hours. The bond, said for all the to aggregate $300,000, is to be asked for their appearance in Indianapolis on March 12, when they are to be arraigned before federal Judge

The necessity of the government to take into custody so many prison ers located in at least twenty distant cities, within a given time, so that, through premature arrests,

OGDEN THEATRE SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10

"THE GROUCH CURE"

George Sidney (HIMSELF)

In a Whirlpool of Laughter

A Musical Bubble, with a Host of Fun Dispensers, including the Clever Comedienne

Carrie Webber

Together With a Singing, Dancing and Laughing Lot of Pretty Girls PRICES 25c to $1.50

WEBER ACADEMY LECTURE COURSE

WILL PRESENT

DR. J. EVEREST CATHELL TONIGHT at 8:30 p. m.

The late United States Senator Dolliver said of Dr. Cathell: "A message which he brings to the people reflects the profound study of a lifetime on those problems with which modern society

Single Admission 50c

fendant by demanding a copy of his | Chihuahua, is expected to resume that indictment, may not reveal the names of his alleged co-conspirators, is re-

Will Be Forty Defendants.
It has developed that the defendants, accused of complicity with the McNamaras and Ortle E. McManigal in perpetrating more than one hundred explosions before and after the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times,

The statement was made that there were at least eight more defendants than the number of indictments re-turned, as many of the true bills contained more than one name number at least forty and probably

Telegrams announcing the return of the indictments are said to have been forwarded from United States District Attorney Miller's office today to authorities in various federal districts where arrests are to follow.
Will Make Arrests at Once.

"While there will be no naste in making arrests, it will be done as soon as possible," said Mr. Miller. Many inquiries have come asking for the exact day, but we have declined to answer.

"Except for the necessity of arresting everybody indicted within a given time, we are handling these cases just as we would any others."

Although the defendants individ ly probably will seek counsel after their arrest, it is expected the fense of all the men ultimately be considered.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, at their headquarters here, where J. J. Mc-Namara formally had his offices, said today he had made no plans for the defense of any of the men.

There will be time enough to think of that when we learn who have been indicted," said Mr. Ryan,

MADERO WILL NOT CHANGE CABINET

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7 .- "For no reason will I change any of my ministers. The members of my cabinet are honorable men. They are patriots, I shall not permit any of them to be slandered as you are slandering

In these words President Madero today brought to a termination an inthe anti-re-electionist party which was attempting to persuade him to dismiss from his cabinet the minsters of war and interior.

The conference had proceeded calm ly up to the moment when the spokes man of the committee, in reply to a statement of the president that evilminded Mexicans were aiding the rebels, declared that this was true and that moreover the knew these men because they were president members of his own cabinet president then peremptorily ended the interview.

In line with this incident Alfredo Robles Dominguez, one of Madero's staunchest supporters, during the revolution, publicly criticised the administration today, stating that in his opinion the removal of the entire cabinet could not save the adminis

The visit of the committee today to President Madero was to interpellate him regarding the source of supplies issued to regular troops and bartered by them for drink and food and in turn bought up by the rebels. There are stories of haclendados having furnished great quantities in return for immunity from robbery, but the most serious report of all is that supplies have been sent from the government arsenal in the capital itself. Scores of the president's most andent supporters of six months ago are speculating on his ability to carry the country through the crisis. The ele ment that is giving the most trouble is that which followed Madero during the revolution. This party charges him with not putting into immediate effect reforms promised.

Gonzales Is Still Governor. EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 7.—Abram convales, governor of the state of office, according to official advices from the capital received today by the mayor of Juarez. The intention of Gonzales to resume office was contained in a telegram to General Pascual Orozco. Gonzales sent the mes sage from Jiminez and stated that he would leave at once for Chihua. hua. He is expected to arrive tomor The advices also contained the information that General Orozco today declined the office of governor tender ed him by the state assembly.

Braulio Hernandez, who resigned as secretary of state recently, is said to have proclaimed himself provision governor of Chihuahua, aligning himself with the Gomez movement. He is reported at Mapula, 20 miles south of Chihuahua, with 200 men.

BROWN IS D. & R. G.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 7 .-(Special)-At a meeting of the board of directors of the Dener & Rio Grande held in New York on February 5, Edward L. Brown, appointed general manager by President Bush, was elected vice president. His headquarters will be in Denver, Colorado.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE MEETS MONDAY.

+++++++++++

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 .- The new Republican congressional committee named at the caucus Monday night will meet tomorrow and complete its organization for the approaching cam-

Representative W. B. McKinley of Illinois, who was endorsed at the caucus, probably will be re-elected chairman and a successor to the late H. C. Lougenslager of New Jersey, for many years secretary, will be nam-

An executive committee and many other officers will be appointed.

Liquors for Medicinal Purposes

Every family should have certain liquors in the home for medicinal purposes especially for emergencies.

Supplying such liquors is an important feature of our business. The goods we sell have all been carefully selected and we guarantee them to you.

There isn't a thing in this line for family use that we cannot supply at a favorable

For out-of-town customers we maintain a modern mail order service. All orders filled same day as received.

Thomas C. Foley

Wines and Liquors. 2410 Washington Ave. PHONE 303. Ogden.

Siamese English. The proprietors of a Siamese newspaper have distributed handbills containing the following no-

"The news of English we tell the latest. Writ in particular style and most earnest. Do a murder git committed, we hear of and tell it. Do a mighty chief die, we pub-lish it, and in borders of sombre. Staff has each one been colleged and write like the Kipling and the Dickens. We circle every town and extortionate not for advertisements. Buy it. Buy it. Tell each of you for its greatness for good. Ready on Friday. Number first."-Everybody's Magazine.

Why They Were There. "I am here, gentlemen," plained the pickpocket to his fellow prisoners, "as the result of a moment of abstraction."

"And I," said the incendiary, "because of an unfortunate habit of making light of things."
"And I," said the forger, "on account of a simple desire to make a name for myself." "And I," sdded the burglar, "through nothing but taking advantage of an opening which was offered in a large mercantile establishment."-New York Call

A Gentle Hint. low in the parlor ever going?"
"Yes, ma, but I want to give him a little refreshment first. Then offer him some breakfast food."-Exchange.

"Son, is your father at home?"

'No. Pa is on trial for combining in restraint of trade. "Well, is your mother in the

"Nope. Ma is having a hearing today for kleptomania "H'm! Evidently you belong to one of the best families."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Good Cure Wh-wow-wh-what dud-do

y-you do fuf-for y-y-your s-s-stur-tering, old mum-man?" asked one confirmed stammerer the other day of another. "W-w-w-wow-well," said second, "I-I-I've fur-found cukconsiderable rnh-ruh-relief fuf-from kuk-keeping mum-my mum-mom-mum-mouth sh-h-shut."

Harper's Weekly. Not So Cheap.

"Talk is cheap," commented the ready-made philosopher. "That remark," replied Senator Sorgum, "proves that you have never undertaken to pay the trav-eling expenses and hotel bills of a party of campaign orators."-Washington Star.

The Lazy Way

Mrs. Crawford-Why don't you try the new paper-bag cooking?

Mrs. Crabshaw—I would, dear, if I thought it was as easy as getting the meals in a paper bag at the delicatessen store.-Judge.

AGAINST SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 .- On motion of the prosecutor, the coroner today dismissed the charge of homicide against Charles M. Dickinson, held in connection with the death of Mrs. Helen Taylor, who was blown up by a bomb Saturday; Dickinson was held under bond as a witness. Through his counsel. Dickinson gave out a statement regarding the explo-

After detailing his acquaintance with the woman, which included reference to several quarrels, Dickinson said he went to the Taylor flut about 25 minutes before the explosion took

"While we were talking, the door bell rang" his statement continues, "and she went to a rear hall door. She opened the door. I heard no conversation whatever-the door was closed and she immediately came back into the room with a package in her

"She walked towards the small ta ble and started to open the package, and the explosion occurred. The noise was frightful.

"My first impulse was to get out and get her out. I called 'Grace,' but there was no response. I opened the door and somebody was standing there I think I velled for a doctor.

Some one asked me what was the trouble I said I didn't know, but there had been an awful accident."

Part of Dickinson's statement seems to indicate that another man left the apartment with Edna Lemarre, Taylor, shortly before the tragedy occurred. He declared he heard the voices of the Lemarre girl and the and that Mrs. Taylor went to the door and said goodbye to the couple as they

The story told by the Lemarre girl is that when she went out shortly before the explosion, she pretended to be talking to a man in order to deceive Dickinson. If another man was in the apartment at the time, as Dickinson says, the police have failed to find any clue to his identity.

JAMES DUKE TO GO TO LONDON

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.-James B. Duke very shortly will resign from the presidency of the American Tobacco company to become chairman of the British-American Tobacco Co. Ltd., with his chief offices in London it was announced late today at the American Tobacco company With this announcement was coupled the statement that he would be succeeded as president of the American Tobacco company by Percival S. Hill, long a vice president.

Mr. Duke's desire in making the change, it was explained, was to de-vote himself to the extension of business of the British-American Tobacco company, Ltd., which now lies prin cipally in China, India, Austria, Belgium and Central Europe.

Mr. Duke sald that he thought a position of usefulness awaited him in BROWN'S

A remody of superior merit for Coughs, Hoarseness and irritation of throat, giving wonderful rollef in Lung Troubles, Brouchitis and Asthma. Free from opiates or any harmful ingredient. Sold only in bozos. Sample mailed free.

JOHN I. BROWN & SON, Boston, Mass.

BRONCHIAL TROCHES